CHANCES FOR ENABLING ACT

Promoters Count on Sixty-Four Members of House of Delegates.

RESULT OF ELECTION.

"Drys" Defeat Five Members of Upper House Who Voted Against Bill in Last Legislature.

Richmond, Nov. 8.—The passage of the enabling act by the general assembly is nearer to accomplishment today than it has been in all the years its advocates have been fighting for it and prohibition leaders confidently predict that when the bill comes before the next general assembly it will be passed.

They base their prediction on information received as to the wavering attitude of certain "wet" senators, upon the election of Judge Buchanan from the Washington-Bristol district despite, the money that was sent into the district by the saloon forces, and upon the election of "dry" candidates for the house of delegates in districts of senators who two years ago voted against the act.

Sixty-four members of the house of delegates are certain to vote for the measure, twelve are doubtful and twenty-four are sure to vote wet.

This is the way the house is lined up, according to the figures of those who have studied it out. It would not be surprising if seventy members of the house should vote for the act. The lowest possible number is placed at 62 or 63.

It is a fact, highly significant of the sentiment of the State, that in the districts of five of the "wet" senators every candidate opposing the enabling act went down in defeat before those who favored it, so that now from those five senatorial districts there is not in the lower house a single delegate who will not vote in the affirmative when the measure comes up for passage. These are the senatorial districts of Senators Hart, Echols, Moncure, Hobbs and Paul.

In Staunton and Augusta—Echols' district—two opponents of the enabling act were replaced by two advocates. In Moncure's district a "dry" delegate was elected in place of one who voted against the enabling act two years ago. Willis comes to the house from Roanoke city to vote for the act, giving the prohibitionists two votes from Senator Hart's district instead of one. From Senator Hobbs home come a solid dry delegation, the "wets" being left behind. In Senator Paul's district a "dry" man comes back.

In addition the advocates of the act gain a member from Norfolk city, while the two from Norfolk city, "wet" before, have not as yet declared themselves. In Fredericksburg, Spotsylvania district, rockribbed in its Democracy, the Democratic candidate for the house of delegates went down in defeat before an independent, who made his campaign on a "dry" platform.

On the other hand, in Scott county, always sending a Republican to the house, the Democratic candidate, on a platform declaring for the enabling act, was elected.

The losses are in Danville and probably in Lynchburg. Two "dry" members of the house from the former city are succeeded by two men who will vote "dry," while Easley, the new member from Lynchburg, is expected to line up with the "wets."

The fight for the vacancy in the State senate from the Washington-Bristol district shows better than anything else, probably, how fully the saloon element realized that it was absolutely necessary to poll a heavy vote for "wet" candidates, and their failure there is typical of their failure wherever the question was made an issue. The fight was bitter, and it was frequently charged that the saloons of the State and their adherents poured money into the district to defeat not only the Democratic candidate for the Senate, pledged to vote for the enabling act, but the Democratic candidates for the the house from Bristol city. The liquor forces staked their all here and lost. Buchanan defeated Lou Summers, the candidate of the "wets," by a majority of 860, and the two Bristol Democrats were elected by a safe majority.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 8.—That the prohibition enabling act twice passed by the house of delegates and twice defeated in the Senate, will be adopted by the 1914 general asembly by a majority which will surprise the leaders of the opposition, is the prediction made by J. W. Hough, pesident of the Virginia Anti-Saloon League. Mr. Hough was asked to comment on the elections held Tuesday throughout the State as affecting the prospect of success for the Anti-Saloon league program at the hands of the next legislature.

"I cannot say definitely what the status of the bill is likely to be when the legislature convenes next January," said Mr. Hough, "but I am convinced that there will be votes enough to get the bill through the senate.

We have no actual figures as to the probable standing of the bill in either the house or the senate, but our reports from the various sections of the State leave no doubt in our minds of the passage of the bill by a large majority."

"The house will unquestionably give the bill a larger majority than has previously been recorded in that body, and the fact that in several senatorial districts whose senators voted "wet" have since then elected members of the house on "dry" platforms greatly improves the standing of the bill in the senate. It is to be recalled that several senators who voted against the measure in 1912 did so explaining that they did not know the sentiment of their constituents. Most of these senators have learned now, through the election this year in their districts of "dry" delegates and otherwise, that their constituents believe in the enabling act. Of course we do not expect the senator from Norfolk to vote for it'."

SEVERS FINGERS OF DEAD.

Rebel Leader's Method of Securing Rings of American After Murder.

Eagle Pass, Tex., Nov. 8.—R. Weiniger, assistant superintendent of the Penoles Mining Company, at Mapimi, State of Durango, Mexico, was robbed and then killed, at the direction of a constitutionalist leader, and, after the murder, his fingers were cut off so the rebel commander might obtain valuable rings the American wore.

This information was brought to Eagle Pass by Ernest Muller, an official of the mining company, who, with other refugees, reached the border after an overland journey of 18 days.

The refugees who arrived were escorted to the boundry by a relief expedition sent to Mapima two months ago. They were the last of the Americans to quit the mining section.

McCOMBS-WILLIAMS WEDDING.

Ceremony is Performed at Noon at Catholic Church in London.

London, Nov. 8.—William F. McCombs, of New York, Democratic National chairman, and Miss Dorothy Williams, of Washington, were married at 12:30 o'clock yesterday in SS. Peter and Edward Catholic Church. The ceremony was simple and quiet, and only thirty guests saw the wedding. They included Ambassador and Mrs. Walter H. Paige, Ambassador and Mrs. Myron T. Herrick, of Paris, the Earl and Countess of Craven, the Earl and Countess of Suffolk, and Lord Curzon.

Charles W. Halsey, of New York, was best man. Miss Williams, who wore a plain traveling frock, was unattended. Father Bernard Vaughan officiated.

There was a simple wedding breakfast and Mr. and Mrs. McCombs said they would remain in London for a few days before sailing for America on their honeymoon.

HAMPTON ANXIOUS.

Local Option Will Cause A Money Loss.

Hampton, Va., Nov. 8.—Because the officials of Phoebus think they would lose money if the state should go dry next year, they have decided not to make any contract with the Newport-News-Old Point Railway and Electric Railway Company for street lights. If they make a contract they will be compelled to sign up for ten years. At the present time there is about $6,000 annual income license tax from the various saloons, and should the next legislature make a law that the state must be dry, the town of Phoebus would have to get the money to make up for the saloon money.

It is said that it would take over $2,000 to pay for lights and this the officials think they cannot do if the $6,000 revenue was taken away from them by such a law passed by the legislature.

FOOTBALL GAME TOMORROW.

Cardinals to Play Against Soldiers From Fort Myer.

The game scheduled for tomorrow promises to be an excellent one, as the Cardinals will have in their line-up their star players, and, as they had an off day last Sunday, they are now in trim and are prepared to put up a rattling good contest when they tackle the soldiers from Fort Myer, Va., on the home grounds at three o'clock.

Sergeant William Morgan has a husky bunch under his command, and, no doubt, will make the Cardinals go the limit to beat his troopers.

Frank Cain, the all around star in football, is now a member of the Cardinals, and his playing will greatly improve the team.

A preliminary game will start at 1:30 between the Cardinal reserves and the Alexandria Athletic Association.

The invitations to the game must be obtained before Sunday, as the Alexandria baseball park is private property. No persons will be admitted unless they have a card issued by the management.

The U. S. Marine Corps team from Anapolis, Md., cancelled the game to be played here Sunday, but Manager Carl Mueller, who did not desire to disappoint the football "side lines and ends," "put on full steam for Fort Myer" and made arrangements with Sergt. Morzen to have his eleven tackle the "home warriors" here tomorrow.

INDIANAPOLIS STRIKE SETTLED

Question of Recognition of Union is Left Open For Present.

ARBITRATION WINS

Street Car Service Will be Resumed at Once—State Troops Will be Ordered Home.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 8. — The strike of the employes of the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal Company has been settled through the efforts of Governor Samuel M. Ralston. The employes won their demand for arbitration, but nothing is said about recognition of the union.

Street car service is to be resumed immediately, according to the terms of the settlement, which also provides against further interference with the operation of cars. All the men who were in the employ of the company on Friday night, October 31, when the strike was called, and all employes who have been discharged on account of joining the union are to be reinstated by the company, with full seniority rights and without prejudice. The company, however, is not compelled to reinstate men who engaged in violence during the strike.

Disputes and grievances as to the wages, hours and conditions of service will be referred to the Utilities Commission for arbitration, if the company and employes fail to reach an agreement within ten days. The company must take up these grievances with its employes within five days after the resumption of service. The Utilities Commission by the terms of the settlement, must render a decision which shall be binding on all parties interested for three years, and shall relate back to the resumption of work, within thirty days from the date of the first hearing.

The strike began a week ago tonight, and has resulted in four deaths and injuries to 100 or more persons, including several police officers. Until yesterday, when the city quieted down, the downtown streets have been the scene of almost continuous rioting, and much damage has been done to street and railway property.

Union officials declare that, while disappointed in not obtaining recognition of the union, they obtained their main contentions, arbitration of all disputes. The railway company asserts it won in its fight not to recognize the union.

WETS TO CONTEST.

Petition For Local Option Election is Being Circulated in Clifton Forge.

Clifton Forge, Va., Nov. 8.—A petition is being circulated for a local option election, and is being signed very liberally, many of the signers being men who had voted "dry" in the past. As it requires less than 175 signers to get an election it is expected that one will be ordered.

An election was held three years ago, and the city gave an increased majority to the "dry" forces. It is claimed by those favoring the sale of liquor that the running of the three clubs and the amount shipped in here from nearby points amounts to as much as was sold in the past when there were thirteen saloons here. This is not admitted by the "dry" forces, and if there is an election it will be hotly contested.

Three years ago the "dry" forces got nearly two-thirds of the vote, and it is hardly probable that the wets will be successful now.

Secretary Daniels Wants Cities to Get Busy and Fight For Same

Alexandria was one of the first cities to set forth the advantages offered for the location of the proposed armor plant here and the original suggestion was in the Gazette. Attention was called to the fact that the natural site for such an enterprise was under the shadow of the Capitol at Washington, six miles from the navy yard and within two hours' run of Indian Head, where the proving grounds are located.

The Chamber of Commerce took the matter with the Congressman from this district as well as with the Senators from Virginia, and the organization has left no stone unturned in its endeavors to get government officials interested in Aleandria's claims.

As has often been said, an ideal location is presented literally in sight of Washington. Newly-made land now extends from Jones's Point, (part of which belongs to the government) to the shipyard, covering an area of about forty acres, with the east front on the channel bank of the Potomac. This land could be procured for the location of the plant proposed by the government.

Other cities are actively engaged in attempts to have the plant situated in their midst, especially Baltimore, Richmond, and other places.

Secretary Daniels wants many large cities to get busy fighting for the government armor plate factory which he will ask Congress to give next session.

"I wish every city with natural advantages would start in trying to get this factory," said the Secretary yesterday.

"I don't care where it is located, just so we get the factory. I don't care whether the location is left to the department or whether the naval affairs or appropriations committee selects the site."

"How much of an appropriation do you expect to ask for?"

"Well, there have been various estimates, ranging btween $7,000,000 and $9,000,000. My idea is to ask Congress to authorize the entire amount this next year, but to appropriate only enough to purchase the site and commence preliminary work.

REMODELNG OLD LANDMARK.

Carpenter and Oyster Shop to be Reconstructed for Other Purposes.

The old carpenter shop on the north side of Prince street, near Fairfax, is having the front removed preparatory to being remodeled for commercial purposes.

In 1860 a frame house painted yellow, occupied by negroes stood upon this site. In that year the late Stephen Swain demolished the structure and erected a brick building, the upper portion of which he used as a carpenter shop for many years. Later Alex. Tyler and Joseph Rodgers used it for the same purpose. At one time E. H. Clarkson conducted the tinning business on the first floor, but for many years it has been used as an oyster shop.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Governor Issues Proclamation Urging People to Observe the Day.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 8.—Governor Mann, following the usual custom, has issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

"It is both wise and right that, at least, on one day of each year, we take stock of our blessings and render unto God, the giver, our thanks and praise. During this year the people of Virginia have been blessed with good and faithful seasons, and crops have not only been excellent in quality, but abundant in quantity; our manufacturing, commercial and industrial interests have prospered; our people have enjoyed good health; our educational and beneficial institutions have more than maintained their already high standards, and progress and advancement along all lines have been made.

For these and other blessings too numerous to mention we ought to be profoundly grateful. Therefore, I, William Hodges Mann, Governor of Virginia, do now and hereby set apart Thursday, November 27th, as Thanksgiving Day in this Commonwealth, and I earnestly enjoin upon the people of the State that as much as possible they abstain from their ordinary business pursuits; that they assemble in their houses of worship for prayer, thanksgiving and praise; that both in their places of worship and their homes they acknowledge their dependence upon God and thank Him with grateful hearts for the multitude of His tender mercies; that during the day they unite in asking God for wisdom, strength and guidance, and for the sanctity, purity and happiness of all the homes in Virginia; that parents may be righteous and faithful in training their children by precept and example, and that all the children of the State, may love, honor and make glad the hearts of their parents; and that all of our people may strive for that righteousness which exalteth a nation.

He was found guilty and sentenced on September 13th in the Circuit Court of Princess Anne County to die on November 7, but was respited until November 14. The further stay granted yesterday was to December 5th.

An application for a pardon for Grant Wilcoxton, sent up from the Buchanan Circuit Court for murder in the second degree under a sentence of seven years in the penitentiary, was refused.

The vault of the State Bank of Waltham, Minn., was dynamited early yesterday by yeggmen, who escaped with $12,000.

PRISONERS ESCAPE.

Three Long-Term Convicts Escape From Road Guard.

Chester, Va., Nov. 8.—Three long-term convicts of the state road force working here escaped as they were ordered from their work yesterday afternoon. All had on balls and chains. It is thought by the foreman that they had concocted the plan between them and filed the rivets at the noon hour, just so they could part them with a little force. At any rate, they left the cuffs, balls and chains behind them, for as soon as they started they reached down and parted the cuffs and took to their heels.

One of them was working at the gravel pit, a mile from the road builders, and the other two were working on the road in the village here. The guard on the road shot several times as they were going down the cuts on the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad tracks, and then ran to the county bridge and fired with a pistol as they were running toward Richmond on the Atlantic Coast Line road Some section men working on the track stated that two men were bleeding about the head and neck as they passed them. The superintendent of the force within half an houh secured A. R. Wingate and his bloodhounds, who got on the track, and he, with several citizens, started in pursuit.

The gravel pit convict made a clear escape. It is likely the other two will be overtaken.

THEY LAST LIKE HIS FAME.

In an editorial the Chicago Evening Post says:

"The old Virginia mansion at Mt. Vernon, George Washington's home, is to be reshingled. The shingles at present in place have shed rain and withstood snow for nearly sixty years, proof enough that Amos Fisher, who did the assembling and the nailing not long after he had returned from the Mexican war, was a good craftsman and an honest contractor.

"Everything connected with Washington's home at Mt. Vernon seems to stand wear and tear as staunchly as does the fame of the owner. Immediately after giving up the Presidential chair to John Adams, Washington went back to Mt. Vernon and began to plant trees. If the records are right, every tree that he planted is still sturdy and thriving. George picked his own trees, for he had no government forestry service to guide him in his choice. Now, much more than a century after, the children of the Father of His Country seek shelter in summer from the heat of the Virginia sun in shade which his foresight furnished.

"There is a box hedge in the garden at Mt. Vernon which was planted by Washington one year after he received the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown. The hedge is thick and green today. It renews itself year after year, and all that the old gardener has to do is to keep his clippers busy. There is a rose bush within the hedged inclosure which was planted by one of George's young female relatives who within a month of the planting was proposed to by a gallant young Virginian and was married "and lived happily ever afterward." Roses from this bush are given to young women visitors today with the accompanying word that their possession will insure their entering into the state of matrimony within the limit of a twelve month.

Inasmuch as growing things and dead things, like shingles, last as they do at Mount Vernon, is it not possible that the fee, charged visitors who, moved by a patriotic impulse, wish to enter the grounds, can be reduced or done away with altogether? A society of women takes care of Mt. Vernon. Money is necessary, of course; but would it be proper for Congress to supply it? "A quarter to see the tomb of Washington," does not sound altogether gracious in the ear of an American.

The Gazette has often referred to the proposition made in the last paragraph of the Post's editorial. We are absolutely opposed to having Congress make an appropiation for Mt. Vernon which would mean that in a few years after it was done Mt. Vernon would become like Arlington and lose the home like charm it now possesses.

VALUE OF THE NEWSPAPER.

Prof. Wm. H. Lynch, field representative of the Springfield, Mo., State Normal School, and for fifty years in the service of Missouri schools, has subscribed for eighty-six newspapers, many of which are metropolitan dailies. Prof. Lynch is given the credit of being the first teacher to introduce the newspaper as an English text book in Missouri schools, if not in the country, his first experiment having been made more than thirty years ago. He has steadily increased the number of newspapers that he subscribed to until he expects ultimately to read one hundred newspapers from various parts of the country each week. Professor Lynch says in his study he has pupils pick various articles and then discuss questions of grammatical construction. "The newspapers and the public schools are the universities the world," said Prof. Lynch.

Prof. Lynch is a wise man in his day and generation. Many people have leraned to read by puzzling out headlines in newspapers when they were children. Many newspapers of today contain pictures of current events, and they play an important part in keeping the younger generation posted in passing events.

DEATH OF C. W. NOWLAND.

(Communicated.)

A very sad affair was the death of Charles W. Nowland, of this city. A man who was beloved by his many friends and fellow-citizens. Mr. Nowland was highly esteemed by both young and old on account of his kindly disposition and pleasing manner toward every one whom he chanced to meet.

He appeared to be in the best of spirits up to the time of the fatal accident and previously there seemed to be no cause whatever for him to commit suicide.

I knew him for eleven years and in that time never found him to be despondent over anything, but always in the best of spirits.

Could it not have been an accident? Very likely, and I for one, believe it was. I am sure those who knew him will have formed the same opinion as I have, that is he killed himself accidentally.

We can only hope and pray we are right in our opinion, and all we can do now is to offer our condolences and sympathies to the family of this highly esteemed gentleman, which we do from the bottom of our heart.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Business High School Defeats Alexandrians by Score of 27 to 7.

A large number of people saw the A. H. S. defeated by Business High School of Washington, yesterday by the score of 27 to 7. The game, although Business won by a large score, was an exciting contest and full of thrilling plays. The A. H S brought the ball within scoring distance three times, but lost it twice on downs. In the last few minutes of play, after Capt. Wenzel brought the ball near the goal, it was carried over by Raison, and Wenzel kicked goal. Right after this the High School kicked to Business, who lost the ball on a fumble. Again the High School approached the goal, but failed to score.

Mr. Prettyman, after an absence of several weeks, returned to school during the week. His return was welcome to all. He commenced work at once by giving the second year a test.

The Latina, a school paper edited by two members of the second year class, is prospering. The editors have issued the ninth number. Large numbers of pupils collect around the bulletin to read the editorials and latest news of the school.

The II English class is going over Julius Caesar very rapidly. The story of the death of Caesar marking the climax of the play, was concluded on Tuesday. After it has been read once, the study of the notes on the play will begin. Quite a discussion as to the character of Brutus has been started. As soon as the book is read through once, a short informal debate will be held on the characters of Brutus and Antony.

The first year has an oral composition every two weeks. The compositions in Miss Hoffman's room have been very interesting. A pupil had one Thursday explaining the rising action, climax, and falling action of a boy, who had climbed an apple tree.

The Girl's Athletic Association, has formed basketball teams. Each have certain days for practice in the Armory. They have a first team, Maroon and White teams, X. Y. and Z teams.

The A. H. S. Literary Society, which met last Saturday night, rendered an excellent program. Miss Blake, the vice-president, presided over the meeting, in the absence of the president. There was much discussion concerning whether to let the freshmen in or not. The election of some freshmen in the last meeting was declared void, as it was not carried out according to the constitution. The proper election of them together with other freshmen, whose names were brought up in the meeting, was passed over until the next time.

The debate, which was won by the affirmative, showed that the participants had studied up very carefully on the subject. Not much time was given for open debate, as the judges, Miss Hoffman, Colonel Ficklin and Miss Martin, did not lose much time in rendering a verdict, and as it was near time for adjournment. The declamations given were, "The Sword of Lee," "Sail on, Sail on," and "Out of the Hills of Taversham."

The next meeting of the society will be held Saturday, November 15. The subject for debate is "Resolved: That Co-education is Preferable to Separate Education in Virginia.

The grades on the Latin exercises in the second year have not improved to any great extent as yet. Low marks are still common. The Sophomores have these exercises every Friday, and Mr. Blanton will endeavor to go over them with the class before the Friday on which they come.

WANTED FRESH AIR.

Prisoner Asked to go to Roads Instead of Lying in Jail.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 8. — Police court precedents were shattered Thursday when Edward Bowles requested Acting Justice Griggs to change his sentence from sixty days in the city jail to forty-five days on the roads. Never before in the annals of the police court, had a prisoner expressed the desire to work, all of them being perfectly willing to spend the time of their imprisonment lolling in the cells.

Bowles was convicted of soliciting aid from residences af a fashionable section on his statement that he was in great need of clothing and money. The note by which he made his appeal stated that he was deaf and dumb but his appearance failed to convince and he was unable to make his endeavors pay. A policeman who noticed his visits to residence after residence arrested him.

In his appeal to Justice Griggs Bowles stated that he wished to go work and that he wanted to be in the fresh air. The justice took the request under advisement.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Pacific and Atlantic terminals of the Panama Canal will cost a large part of the remaining $37,000,000 to be appropriated for that waterway, estimates of the bulk of which already have been submitted to the House committee on appropriations. The $37,000,000 will make up the total of $375,000,000 contemplated as the total cost of the canal.

At the German Foreign Office it was said yesterday that a combination of the powers in support of the United States would be considered by Germany and other Europeans powers in case the United States expressed a wish in that direction. If, however, such a suggestion came from Provisional President Huerta, it would not be considered by Germany unless the United States desired it.

Alfred Russell Wallace, an eminent British scientist, died yesterday in London, aged 91 years. Professor Wallace shares with Darwin the honors of having set forth the scientific principles of evolution.

The first serious football accident of the season occurred at Elkins, W. Va., yesterday afternoon when in a practice game between two elevens of Davis and Elkins College, Robert Wamsley, youngest son of Edward Wamsley, of Mill Creek, had his skull fractured just over the eyes in making a tackle. He was removed to the Davis Memorial Hospital, where an operation will be performed.

William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic national commtitee, who was married in London yesterday to Miss Dorothy Williams, will accept President Wilson's offer of the Ambassadorship to France. This declaration was made last night by persons close to the White House. The post has been open to Mr. McCombs ever since the inauguration. He has twice declined it, but there is every expectation that he will soon send the President his acceptance.

Four persons were killed and seven injured, one probably fatally, early yesterday, when a seven-passenger touring car with a dozen occupants collided with a smaller automobile near Los Angeles, Cal. The big machine was overturned, and the occupants were pinned beneath. Erkil Chapman, owner of the big automobile; Miss Vrie Elmore, W. R. Sanders and Harry B. Curtis were killed and H. C. Neuschaefer sustained a fractured skull which may cause his death. Only one occupant of the smaller car was hurt.

A mob broke in the doors of the Dyersburg, Tenn., jail yesterday afternoon, removed John Talley, a negro, eighteen years old, and lynched him in the courthouse yard. The negro was accused of attempting to assault a white woman, and after his arrest was identified.

With a green cloth shopping bag drawn over her head and tied under the chin, the body of Miss Margaret Preston, of Valley Falls, R. I., was found floating in Abbot run yesterday. Miss Preston had left home about an hour before her body was found. The woman was thirty-five years old.

Gerald Richardson, son of John J. Richardson, a wealthy department store owner and prominent citizen of Erie, Pa., and Eleanor Kennedy, of Bradford, Pa., were crushed to death last night when a freight train on the Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad wrecked an automobile driven by Richardson at the West Lake Road Crossing near Erie. Irvin McMullen, owner of a theatre, and Beatrice Treavold, are dying in a local hospital from injuries. It is believed that a drizzling rain blurred the windshield of the automobile, and Richardson was unable to see the train.

Attorney Marshall Woodward yesterday sought and obtained from U S. District Judge Wlliam Van Fleet of San Francisco, Cal., an order granting a further ten days of execution in the cases of Maury I. Diggs and Drew Caminetti, convicted in August and September under the Mann white slave traffic act. This makes a total of sixty days' stay since the pair were sentenced, Diggs to two years and Caminetti to eighteen months in San Quentn Prison.

Pro-election hostilities in Boston between Representtives Thomas J. Giblin and Jas. E. McGuire, a newspaper editor were resumed when the two men met on the street Thursday. When the argument was ended McGuire was taken to a hospital to be treated for a fractured skull and the police began a search for Giblin, who was defeated for reelection Tuesday.

Old Newspaper Closed Down.

The very oldest newspaper in the world has been summarily suspended by the official order of Yuan Shi Kai, President of the new Republic of China. The paper in question is the Pekin Gazette or Tching-Pao, which translated, means news of the capital. It is said to have been started in 713, and, therefore, might have celebrated its twelve hundredth anniversary this year. It was stated many years ago that the paper was printed upon silk for a time.

The President now proposes to acquaint the people of China with the true facts through the popular press, as it is now in this country, and in many other ways is following the beacon light of modern civilization.—Richmond Journal.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

SAVED BY CORSET STAVE.

Woman and Man Fight Duel With Pistols in Maryland.

To a steel corset stave Mrs. William P. Hutton, twenty-seven years old, of Linden, Md., owes her life, and, therefore, Thomas J. Garrett, of the same village, probably saved from being a murderer.

Mrs. Hutton is at the Forest Glen (Md.) sanatorium living with four bullet wounds in her body the fifth having been deflected by a corst stave and prevented from piercing the heart.

Garrett went to the home of Mrs. Hutton on Thursday night, it is said by the wounded woman, with the intention of killing her and then himself. A pistol duel was fought on the stairway in the Hutton home, in which both were wounded.

According to Mrs. Hutton, Garrett, who is married, had been trying to force his attentions on Mrs. Hutton, who is separated from her husband, an employe of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington. She alleges Garrett, while intoxicated, called at her home, drew a revolver, and told her he intended to kill himself. She claims she asked him to refrain, and then escaped from him by running up stairs.

From a bureau drawer she obtained a revolver and met Garrett as he came up the stairs. Mrs. Hutton thinks Garrett fired the first shot, which pierced her right thigh. Other shots followed in quick succession. One penetrated her right wrist, another the right shoulder, and another under the fifth right rib. The fifth bullet, traveling on a direct line for the heart, struck a steel stave in her corset.

Garrett was struck but once, the bullet lodging in the abdomen. He was brought to Washington early yesterday morning and placed in Garfield Hospital, Though conscious at times yesterday, Garrett would not discuss the details of the shooting. It is said, however, he denies having fired the first shot at Mrs. Hutton. or of following her up the stairs.

While both Mrs. Hutton and Garrett are seriously wounded, unless unforeseen complications arise, they will recover.

Garrett is thirty-two years old. He is the son of Major Thomas J. Garrett, of Alabama, for years an employe of the Senate. He is married and has five children. His wife is an invalid, it is said, and lives with her parents in Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Hutton, before her marriage, was Miss Saidee C. Coke, of Washington.

HELD UP BY LONE ROBBER.

Unmasked Man Gets Money and Watches From Passengers on Fast Mail.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 8.—The Burlington's fast mail train, No. 9, from Chicago to the coast was held up at midnight Thursday between Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Omaha, and the Pullman passengers robbed. The hold-up was perpetrated by one man, unmasked, who secured about $500 and a half dozen watches. He remained on the car until the train reached the Omaha depot, when he coolly clambered down and escaped into the railroad yards near the depot. Every reserve policeman in the city was thrown into the yards as quickly as possible, but the hold-up man has not been captured.

The train stopped at the Union Pacific transfer station in Council Bluffs, and but one passenger got on aboard. He entered the Pullman with a gun in either hand.

Standing with his back to the door, he covered the passengers, waving the guns back and forth to take in everybody. Then in a quiet voice he ordered all passengers into one end of the car, where he could keep them all in sight. He took the men, one at a time, pressed a revolver into the small of the back and ordered the money and jewelry produced.

"Any of you fellows make a move and I'll kill this fellow and then all of you before I'm caught," said the robber.

There were five passengers and three trainmen in the car, and all were robbed As he finished the job the train pulled into the Omaha depot, and the robber made his getaway.

It is a handsome heater, too. Ask your dealer to show you a Perfection, or write for descriptive catalogue.
